

Target Pipeline Lists: Deliverable & Methodology

The Target Pipeline List in the Word table contains information about:

File: ID no. in proprietary database

Drug name: trade name, INN, drug code(s), trivial name

Target/MoA: mechanism of action

Class of compound: description of type of molecule, formulation, way and mode of administration, application device

Company: originator of molecule and licensee(s) with territories

Category: treatment modalities, i.e. antibody, protein, peptide, RNA, DNA, cells, vaccine, small molecule

Indication: medical indication evaluated in preclinical or clinical study, combination regimens

R&D Phase: from research to market with reference to indication/study

Message: last verified information about project with source and date of information and hyperlink leading to source of information

Research methodology:

Information about R&D projects is identified and retrieved from company publications including, but not limited to, press releases, presentations, website disclosures, SEC publications, regulatory documents, scientific abstracts and full papers, patent applications. Furthermore, public and proprietary databases are used including national and regional clinical trial databases, PubMed.